FRELDOM ROAD FILMS

This is a new organization incorporated in the State of New York production of independent pictures in Hollywood. The first preture to be made is stated to be "freedom Road." This picture will be adapted from a book of the same name written by Howard Fast who has a long record of Communist activity. He is an associate editor of "New Masses," special writer for the "Daily Worker" and "Peoples Teily World" and many other Communist publications.

The picture "Freedom Road" will undoubtedly carry the Communist Party line. Others composing this group, incorporators of the company, are:

Paul Robeson, actor Leo Hurwitz Laldo Salt, Writer Joe Gould

Paul Robeson is to be the star of the picture. The finances for the venture nave been raised by Mrs. Leo Spitz, wife of Leo Spitz, one of the major producers in Hollywood. Mrs. Spitz supports Communist front groups.

"KANIN PROTUCTIONS"

According to confidential informant the foregoing is the name of a newly lorsed organization to produce motion pictures in the independent field. No announcement of program has been made but the following persons with Communist records compose the organization:

Garson Kanin
Ruth Gordon (wife of Garson Kanin)
*Bonald Ogden Stewart - writer
*Kichael Kanin - writer

Arrangements have been made to release any production through Universal-International Pictures affiliated with the J. Arthur Rank interests outside the United States.

NEGRO_PICTURES

David Hanna in the Los Angeles Taily News for August 22, 1945, stated in part that from New York comes an announcement of the formation of a new firm, Harold Pictures, which is expected to have an important infldence on the production and distribution of all Negro pictures.

Hanna stated in substance that a company headed by Jack Goluberg, an old hand in the Negro field, will turn out twelve pictures a year at the rate of one per month. The first is to be "Boy! What a Girli", which will be distributed by Arthur Leonard. Some $50,000 will be spent on the film.

V. SOVIET ACTIVITY IN HOLLIWOOD

The chief Soviet activity in Hollywood at the present time centers around the representative of Artkino, the Soviet film concern. The Soviet film industry maintains an official representative in Hollywood in the person of Mikhail Kalatozov.

Mikhail Kalatozov

This man arrived in Hollywood in August, 1943. According to press items his duties were to be comparable to that of an Ambassador in diplomatic circles with the additional function of advising on the purchase of American films. Among his announced aims were to "strengthen the artistic and commercial ties between the cinema people of the United States and those of the Soviet Union." Kalatozov has been in contact with known Communist elements in Hollywood and shortly after his arrival a reception for him was sponsored by the National Council of American Soviet Priendship, a Communist controlled group. Charlie Chaplin, Hollywood actor, acted as master of ceremonies at the reception and introduced Kalatozov. Kalatozov's duties are said to operate in conjunction with the Soviet Committee, the special representative of which is Leonid A. Antonov, whose headquarters are in New York City.

Leonid A. Antonov

Antonov is one of the largest film producers in Russia and reportedly was sent to the United States to act as liaison agent to get Russian pictures released in this country. He is also charged with the duty of reading scripts of films produced in the United States to see that they are favorable to Russia, and it is said that whenever any Russian film is desired for stock shots, the picture must necessarily not be entiCommunist. It is said that it is not necessary for the picture to be Communist to obtain the Russian films, but that the picture must be at least neutral on the subject of Communism. The local representative for Antonov in Hollywood is Ben Coldstein, with whom all arrangements must be made for the purchase or use of Russian films. Goldstein is American born and works at Technicolor Laboratory in Hollywood.

Soviet Films

Several films depicting mussian activities have been made in Hollywood through the assistance of Artkino. Among these are: "Russia," which will soon be released through Metro Goldwyn-Mayer Studios. Jay Leyda, Communist Party member, was technical director for this picture and stock shots taken in Russia are utilized as background and were purchased from Artkino. V. V. Pastoev, Soviet Vice Consul at Los Angeles oppeared on the MCM lot at least three times to observe the shooting of this picture.

Distin People" is being made by 20th Century Fox. The producers are Boris Morros and his business associate Sam Spiegle, alias S. P. Eagle. This film also uses atock shots of Russian backgrounds purchased through contact with Artkino. It is based on a play by the Soviet writer Siminov and was adapted to the screen by Clifford Odets, Communist Party member.

Boris Morros

Morros, who is associated with the film, "The Russian People," is a naturalized Russian who at the present time is a musical director in the Hollywood motion picture colony. Morros has been contacted by Vasilli Zubilin, reportedly the head of the NAVD for the Western Hemisphere and was given a brief case containing unknown documents by Zubilin. According to an unidentified informant, Morros acts as an agent of Zubilin in transferring information to German espionage agents. Morros is a close contact of members of the Soviet Consulate staff in Los Angeles, California.

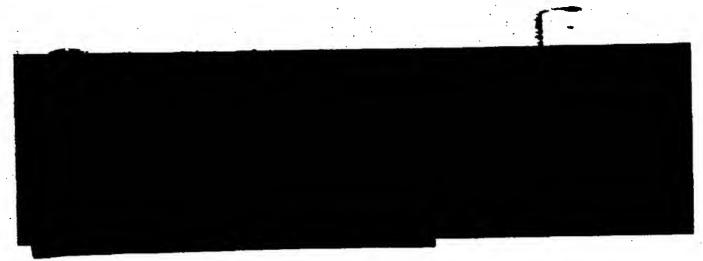

Although Morros has been and still is the subject of vigorous investigative attention in connection with the Comrap case, no additional information identifying him as an active Soviet agent has been developed as of the present time.

Awards to Persons Prominent in the Motion Picture Industry

The Los Angeles Herald for June 9, 1944 stated that Charles Chaplin and John Ford have been accoladed in the past by the Soviet Film Committee. It further stated that Louis Milestone will be honored by the Soviet Union Film Committee in July, 1944 when four of his pictures will be shown at the Cinema Theater Building in Moscow. The subjects selected as being most expressive of Milestone's technique are reported to bo: "The Front Page," "Of Mice and Men," "The Purple Heart," and "North Star."

Selection of American Films by Kalatozov

Among the films which have been purchased by Mikhail Kalatozov, a Soviet motion picture representative on the West Coast, and showing in Russia as representative of United States films are "The Little Foxes" and "The Earl of Chicago." The first of these pictures depicts a degenerate Southern family and the latter is the story of a Chicago gangster in England. Informants have reported that it is particularly unusual that Kalatozov should have selected "The Earl of Chicago" since this picture was never particularly successful in the United States and is several years old. It has been suggested that it may be part of Kalatozov's plan or propaganda technique to obtain such pictures in order to exhibit American life at its worst to the Soviet people.

Russian-American Club

In August, 1944, this club reportedly was created in the Hollywood district with the announced purpose of raising money for the people of the Soviet Union through the Emssian-American Society for Medical Aid to Emssia. The Russian Vice Consul, V. V. Pastoev, attended the opening session as one of the principal speakers. Included among those active in the affairs of the club are Leonia Kinsky, an associate of the Russian Consul, and Michael Walden who is also reported to be connected with the Russian Consul. Included among known Communist Party members active in this club are Frank Tuttle and his wife Tatiana Tuttle, Michael Walden, and Dr. Murray Abowitz. Olivia DeHavilland, Louis Milestone and George M. Day are also active in the organization.

Wikhail Kalatozov

Kalatozov and his associates reportedly have continued to contact known Communist elements in Hollywood and to have visited nearly all the major studios, allegedly to seek desirable films for purchase by the Soviet Covernment. It is reported that he has presented to the State Department a proposal whereby the Soviet Union will confer decorations on the following prominent personages: Jack Warner, Sam Goldwyn, Edward G. Robinson, Walter Huston, Oscar Homolka, Victor Francen, Jay Leyda, Mannart Kippert, and Joris Ivens. These awards reportedly are being made to the listed individuals for their participation in the films "Mission to Moscow" and "North Star."

It is reported that Kalatosov has had numerous meetings with Gregori Kheifets, principal suspect in the COMPAP investigation, when the latter has been in Los Angeles.

Exchange of Films with Soviet Representatives that plans are being formulated for cultural exchange of motion pictures between the United States and the Soviet Union and Britain and the Soviet Union. It was reported that the USSR Film Committee has approved certain plans and recommended them for acceptance of United States Ambassador Harriman and the British Ambassador at Moscow. The original plan was to have one theatre in Moscow to show only American and British films, but this did not materialize as no suitable theatre was available. The present proposal is that two American and two British films each month be presented for closed showings to cinema clubs, actors, composers, writers, and scientific organizations, and the showing would be for one day only in screening rooms accommodating between 300 and 500 persons. The Russians reportedly would expect similar arrangements to be made in the United States and Britain for the showing of their films. It is reported the State Department and CWI will recommend acceptance of the plan by the Hollywood industry.

"RKO Soyuzintorkino Deal"

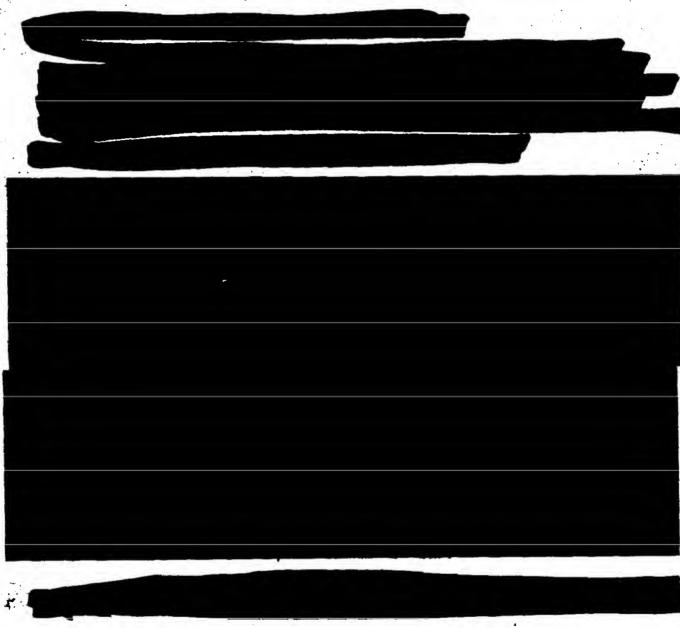

The October 9, 1944, issue of "News Week" (page 24), carried the following item:

"In Hollywood's current scramble for the post-war foreign film market, RKO has out-sprinted the other studios by signing a two year centract with Soyuzintorkino (Soviet Movie Trust). Under the deal, RKO will distribute, in the United States and elsewhere as agreed upon by the trust, a yearly minimum of five Soviet films purchased at $50,000. In return for every Russian picture the U. S. studio handles, Soyuzintorkino will purchase an RKO movie at the same price for distribution with the U.S.S.R. To facilitate these business deals, a new corporation soon will be set up with RKO and the Russian film trust, each holding a 50% interest. The Soviet Union's determination to cut its own slice of the world film market is seen in the trust's refusal to name RKO as sole global distributor of Russian films."

The following reply was received from the Department in May, 1945.

"The story concerning a contract between these organizations, which appeared in News Week, appears to have been premature. Tentative proposals along the general lines reported in this news story were made by RKO, and were sent, in the form of a draft contract, to the Soviet Union for ratification. Mr. Knapp, of the Foreign Agents Registration Section, has been informed by Mr. Charles Recht, attorney for Soviet organizations in this country, and by Mr. John Whitaker, of RKO, that the Soviet film industry authorities have not accepted the RIO proposals, or made any sounterservosals. Both sources imply that, although the Soviet authorities in the definitely terminated negotiations, they did not expect them to lead to an agreement along the lines first discussed and thereafter embodied in the draft agreement, a copy of which is contained in aivision of Records file May-1998. If any further information is received by this Division, it will be transmitted to the Eureon."

Visit of Konstantin Simonov to the United States

On May 23, 1946, from a technical surveillance maintained on John Howard Lawson, it was learned that he telephonically communicated with Bert Bargeman, a Communist employed as a secretary by the Hollywood Writers Mobilisation. During the course of this discussion, Lawson stated that he had written most of Konstantin Simonov's speeches that he had delivered in Los Angeles. As you will recall, Konstantin Simonov is a noted Russian writer who visited Los Angeles in May of this year. Bargeman told Lawson that she felt that Simonov's possibilities had not been fully exploited and that many of Simonov's speeches had "watered down" to a mere "driver of "Russian and the United States should be friends." Bargeman felt that this was a "milk toast" attitude and that it should be stopped. Also, that the Communists start fighting Fascism which she claimed flourished most successfully in the United States. To this Lawson agreed but cautioned that it would be necessary to start off very gradually in changing the peoples' beliefs and that he felt the "best bet is by Communizing the writers and producers" in Hollywood and eventually controlling every picture and fiction story produced in Hollywood. He also stated that perhaps one day every news article in the United States might also be controlled.

The Los Angeles Herald for May 28, 1946, under the heading "Probe Buss Ship Parties as Chaplin and Garfield Fated," stated in part that Actor John Garfield and wife, Charlie Chaplin and wife, Lewis Milestone, Russian born film director, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Pumantze were entertained aboard a Russian ship anchored in the Los Angeles harbor. This article further stated State Senator Tenney, chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, announced that he was sending two investigators to get the facts to report to the committee at its next meeting. It is reported that the guests were on board this ship at the invitation of Simonov.

The Los Angeles Herald for May 31, 1946, under the heading, "Russ Writer Lists Chaplin, Bette Davis as Soviet Friends," stated in part that Konstantin Simonov, Russian journalist, reported from New York that Bette Davis, Charlie Chaplin and Hollywood writers speak, "in deep contempt of the alanderous campaign raised by the reactionary press — particularly the Ecarst press — against the Soviet Union." Simonov described Hiss Davis as an actress "whom our film goers know from the 'Little Foxes'", and said he was amazed to find Chaplin rehearsing five rolls for a forthcoming picture. Simonov further stated he visited the "Actors Lab" in Hollywood where a great interest in the Soviet Union was displayed. At the Writers' Association Simonov said, "The American writers displayed a sincere and profound interest in Soviet culture." He also stated the friendly attitude of the progressive American intellectual workers is a guarantee for broad cultural relations between our two countries.

The article in the Los Angeles Herald for May 28, 1946, which referred to Mr. and Mrs. John Garfield, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Chaplin, Mr. and Mrs. Pusantze and Lewis Milestone, Russian born film director, being the guests of Konstantin Simonov, Russian journalist, on a Russian ship anchored in the Los Angeles harbor, also contained information that State Senstor Tenney, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, had sent two investigators to get the facts to report to the Committee at its next meeting concerning this gathering. Then he stated that he was interested in learning more about Milestone and his Russian connections and to question John Garfield. Tenney also stated that he intended to summon Chaplin, who is not a citizen, as well as Garfield and Milestone, along with a score of others. He also indicated that the Committee would like to know Milestone's and Garfield's names at birth. The article stated, "The elaborate banquet served to the guests — while millions are starving in Europe — provided an ironic touch to the celebration honoring the proletariat."

It was stated that the Soviet film viewed by the party aboard the Russian ship was "The Bear" in which the decadence of the Czarists was pointed out by their predilection for champagne parties. Its climax is a scene in which hundreds of bottles of the sparkling wine are smashed. The article stated that Alexander P. Grochev, representative of the Soviet Purchasing Commission in the United States, arranged the banquet preceding the showing of the picture.

This article also reflected that John Carfield said, "we felt it was an honor to be invited aboard as a guest of Simonov because he is here on invitation of the State Department and because he is the author of the best seller Days and Nights." We had been showing him around Hollywood and he felt he ought to return the entertainment and buy a drink in the Eussian manner."

Charlie Chaplin, another Hollywood guest at the party, repeatedly referred to the United States Customs men as the "American Gestapo."

SOVIET ACTIVITY IN HOLLYWOOD (July 23 through November 14, 1946)

In connection with the visit of Konstantin Simonov, the Russian writer, to this country, there appeared in the June issue of the Screen Writer, which is the official publication of the Screen Writers Quild, an edited transcript of an informal discussion held under the auspices of the Hollywood Writers kobilization between Simonov and members of the Screen Writers Quild. This forum was presided over by Screen Writer, Dalton Trumbo and was interpreted by. Bernard Koten. This discussion was in question and answer form and the following were some of the more important questions, with answers, given by Simonov.

I want to know about such things as the Motion Picture Institute in the Soviet Union and similar institutions.

The Film Institute works under the Ministry of Cinematography, Aı situated in Moscow, and it has the following sections: a school for directors, one for film actors, script writers, stage set designers and a section on the history of the film. Students are accepted into the Institute on the same basis as other institutes of higher learning, but for entrance into the actors! division, directors!, script writers! and set designers; divisions there are additional tests of the applicants' creative abilities. The Institute itself gives a general education in the humanities. The specialized work in the acting, writing and directing fields is conducted through small groups and work shops, which are led by wellknown, important people in the field. The course is a five-year one, and on completion the students tale the regular state final examinations in addition to special examinations. The set designers, for instance, in their final year produce a film. If the sets are considered good, they pass their final test. For the actors this final test is playing an important featured role in a film. For the director this final test consists of either a short which he will direct by himself or working under another director as a creative assistant on a full-length film. For the script writers it is a full-length feature script accepted for production. That describes in general the organisational work of the Institute. For instance, a film just finished, a full-length color film based on a Ural folk tale, had in its case a young girl who played the feature role, who was playing this role as her diploma project for the term; the sets were designed by a young set designer who was also offering this as his diploma project.

From a practical point of view, is it so that this writers' organisation mostly determines what subjects shall be filmed for the coming year? (Note: This organization is discussed in a previous answer by SIMONOV and was described as a writers' organization responsible for approximately 75% of the scripts written and used by studios in Russia.)

The Council at the head of the script writers! studio prepares the yearly plans which are presented to the council attached to the Ministry of Cinematography. About half the members of the council are attached to the Ministry of Cinematography. In addition, there are many other members of this latter council -about twenty-ons members. They are the most important figures in their fields in the country. This council approves and widens the script writers! plan. In such cases as an argument over whether or not a soript which the writers' studio thinks is good and is not wanted by any of the film studios, or arguments over construction of the script, the final decision rests with the council attached to the Ministry of Cinematography. That only happens in very serious cases. The main work of the council attached to the Ministry, which meets weekly, is the discussion of films already produced or being produced. About minety percent of any of the script problems or questions are decided upon by the script writers' studio....

What about rights of the writer in other use of his material? Does he sell only the film rights? Can he sell the film again as a novel or short story?

(Note: In this connection, there is presently a strong move under way within the Screen Writers Guild to license rather than sell screen plays, and this move has been promoted by Communists within the Guild presumably in order that they may then exercise complete control over the script.) He sells only the right for screening.

condition in the contract that the author does not have the right to have it printed or published until the film has been screened or issued. That happens very rarely. Most of the studios are not much concerned whether or not the script is published.

- Q: How do writers get paid; by salary or percentage?
- A: The script writer is paid for each film. He does it by contract. He gets from forty to eighty thousand rubles for a film.
- O: I am interested in the compensation of people employed by the studios—the actor, director, writer and cameraman; what is the comparative pay?
- A: The director gets a monthly salary. There are four categories of directors (Simonov then goes on to explain these categories.)

 There are two types of acting personnel. The first is the so-called staff actors who get a regular salary. They are required to work a maximum number of days a year, let us say, perhaps ten shooting days a month. For all work beyond that they get overtime. But most of the important actors work in the theatre, too, the greatest number, and they work on contract....
- Q: These technicians, cameramen, etc.; who sets their salaries and what can they do about it if they consider their salaries unfair?
- A: They get a two-week testing out period. After this period they are told they will be hired at such and such a salary. If they agree, they stay on; if not, they go to another place. With the set designers, the artists, their qualifications and art ability decide their salaries and that is decided upon by the various art organizations.
- C: What about trade unions as they exist in America which set working conditions and wage scales?
- A: The principle is the same. I will explain from the point of view as it is worked out in the theatre. In the theatre there is a well defined norm for the actors' salaries. In a given theatre, ten actors could be of the highest category, fifteen of the next, twenty of the next, forty of the lowest category. And on this basis theatres accept actors for any openings. And if all ten places in the highest category are filled, for instance, and some important actor of the highest category asks to be taken into the group, he will be told, 'We would like to have you, but there is no opening, only one in the next category.' The actor must decide this himself. If it is to work there, he will come despite this. These categories are not static; they continually change; an actor can promote himself from one to another. In the case of any misunderstanding or quarrel, say, when an actor might consider that he should be promoted to a higher category but is not being promoted, he has two ways out. He might apply to the trade union for help. The trade union would have to appoint a qualified commission to examine the whole question. Into this commission would go representatives of the theatre, representatives of the whole director force of the theatres and representatives of the actors social organizations. This decision will be a compulsory one for the theatre because if the theatre does not follow the decision made by the trade union, the union takes the theatre to court.

But that is rarely necessary. The actor has another avenue of complaint. There is a union, a theatrical society which is purely an arts organization and not a trade union. At its head are the most important directors and actors. If the actor thinks he has been treated unjustly, he can apply to this organization of theatrical workers, asking them to comment upon his treatment. If the organization decides to defend the actor, its authority is so high that usually it will be listened to.

- What is the procedure in the event of dissatisfaction with wages?
 For instance, take the actors in the lowest category; suppose they are dissatisfied with the rate. What appeal do they have?
- A: Take the theatre, for instance. At the head are two people — the Administrative Director and the Arts Director. In deciding any hotly-contested questions, the last word remains with the Arts Director, since in these positions, usually, there are the most important actors, etc., and if there is any argument, certainly the Administrative Director must accept the decision the Arts Director makes. So, if an actor in this lower category considers his salary too low, he will apply first of all to the Arts Director and if the Arts Director decides that his salary should be increased, and if it is possible to increase it, in that theatre, then it is raised. However, if they don't come to an agreement, the actor can then apply to the trade union and if the union agrees, the actor should get a higher salary, they then take the /rts Director to court. But those cases are rare because the life of the theatre depends on agreement.
 - I am still trying to tackle the problem of a group action.
 Suppose not one, but all of the stagehands became dissatisfied.
 What is their approach toward seaching a higher wage?

In cases where it would be generally conceded that a whole group is being underpaid this question would be raised in government circles and they would raise the salaries on government decision. To take a concrete example: the writers decided their fees for work in magazines and books were not high enough. They continued discussions on that for two years in the trade unions. The Union of Soviet Eriters, on its decision that the salaries were too low, together with the publishers, appealed to the government for raising of their salaries and fees. A commission was established by the government with representatives from these fields and the decision was to double the fees. You will excuse me if I say something that is quite primitive, but I must say it.

The whole state budget is organized in the interests of the entire population of the country. Therefore, we cannot always give people the salaries that their work might deserve, and we cannot always give people the salaries which would secure good life for them. This, of course, is regrettable, but it does not provoke any opposition among the people because no one is putting their money into hisppockets. At this given moment the government is not able to pay more. It is more important to build and restore at present. For this a tremendous amount of money is needed in capital. Therefore, in the interest of the government's needs, the people reconcile themselves to the conditions. The question of raising salaries is very often put, and if you tere to examine Soviet newspapers, you would notice often decrees calling for raising of salaries in tens of different categories, but the question is NEVER Categorically put: 'Either you raise my salary or I won't work.'

- Q: Do you get many American films in the Soviet Union?
- A: There are the films that are received to acquaint the small circle of people in the arts with American films, and then the films that are received to be distributed throughout the country.
- O: There is there that separation?
- A: The smaller circle of people decides which films ought to be bought and distributed. In recent times there were a greater number of American films on the screens in the Soviet Union. Unfortunately, now we have adopted the system of dubbing in voices. I don't like this system. I prefer sub-titles. This dubbing in holds up distribution for a long time; it usually takes six-to eight months to dub in a film because the attitude toward dubbing is quite a serious one and great actors are hired to dub in the voices. They do a very good job but take a very long time at it. I think that the number of American films on our screens will be greatly increased; the whole tendency is to take on more and more of them.

- Q: What is the basis for a selection now?
- The question of the creative worth of a film, the question of business relations between ourselves and Hollywood. Often then it is felt that there is a great desire for comedies by the Soviet audiences, comedies are bought and put on the screen. Euch depends on our own production. It is important to intelligently establish a proportion between the type we are doing and the type we put on the screen from other countries.
- C: I am interested in the exchange of people in larger numbers than is now taking place and would like to know what hurdles have to be overcome.
- I am very happy this matter has come up. I have talked with several A: people already and I think it would be very desirable to have some sort of American-Russian Film Committee established, which would concern itself with these exchanges. I think such a committee should consist of people from all the fields—compress, writers, actors, directors, producers -- so it could deal with all questions concerned with cultural and administrative problems and the creative arts. If such a committee were established I think that we would then be able to turn from these fruitless discussions of exchange to practical exchanges. We could concern ourselves with the exchanges of workers, with trips, with the exchange of information, sending over apprentices both here and there. It would make possible the organizing of Periodical film festivals and in addition aid in the more intelligent and more rapid exchange of good films between both countries. I am going to insist on such a committee when I get back to Moscow. "

Agent of our hearesters Office that no contact has been made by personnel of the Soviet Vice Consulate in Ios Angeles with Paramount Studios during the past six months. He stated that it was entirely possible that unofficial contacts had been made but that nothing had passed through his office which would indicate any attempt on the part of Soviet diplomatic officials to contact this studio.

This interview, which was conducted on August 13, 1946, also provided information that the Paramount Studios had recently discharged several writers who had Communist inclinations. Indicated that although Communists and Russians were an active minerity in the motion picture industry, he did not believe that they would ever have any real influence in the industry until they learned how to make pictures properly and stop trying to convey a social message. He indicated that he did not think the average American theatre-goer was interested in this sort of picture.

months tour or curope which took him to Finland, Norway, England, Italy and occupied Germany. He advised that he visited the Russian zone while in Berlin and learned that the Russians were at that time producing twelve pictures, using the facilities of a German film organization and German actors. He stated that these films were all Communist propaganda and were being prepared for release to Central Europe. He indicated that there was no doubt in his mind that the Russians were extremely motion picture conscious. He recalled one incident when one American studio had several prints in a warehouse in the Russian controlled zone. Efforts to get these prints back have been negative and the Russians have claimed that they were destroyed by fire. However, he stated that affidavits are available to the effect that the Russians stole the prints and are using them in the production of their own pictures.

Their tour included the major cities in this country, during which time they gathered information, photographs and blueprints.

They were also interested in production figures and new techniques developed. The visit of these individuals to the studios was the result of a request received from Mr. Albert Kriz, who is a Los Angeles architect, who made the request for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

of Columbia Fictures International Corporation of New York City, advised that Columbia Pictures had no contractual relations with the Soviet Government and that this corporation cannot sell pictures to the Soviet Government as it (the Soviet Government) will not pay for them and that Columbia Pictures has purchased no Russian pictures.

of Paramount International Films, Inc., also advised that Paramount had no contractual relations with the Soviet Covernment. He advised that in 1943 Paramount Studios had purchased "The City that Stopped Hitler" from the Russians for distribution in the United States. This film was a factual war picture concerning the siege of Stalingrad with narration by John Wexley. He stated that approximately one year are Paramount Studies through Nicola Napoli, of Artkine Pictures, Incorporated, sent prints of the pictures "Hitler Cang" and "The Hostages" to Moscow for the approval of the Soviet Covernment. He explained that if the Soviet Covernment approved the pictures then a deal would be made for their purchase. However, he stated that he has tried unsuccessfully to obtain the return of said pictures from the Russians. He stated that since this time Hapoli has indicated an interest in the picture "The Searching Wind," which was written by Lillian Hellman, reported as a well-known follower of the Communist line, which depicts the story of diplomacy in Europe leading up to the second World Wer. However, advised Mapoli that in view of the fact that any dealings with Artkino and the Russians were far from profitable, he consequently refused to have any further dealings with him, citing the fruitless attempt to regain the prints "Hitler Cang" and "The Hostages" from the Russians.

an official of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Pictures in New York City, also advised that his company had no contractual relations with the Soviet Covernment and that further it did not wish to deal with the Soviet Covernment, as the Soviet Government would offer to pay only about $5,000 for a ricture, which is a very low figure, according to Mr. Spring. It was Mr. opinion that the Soviet Government wished to purchase pictures derogatory to the American way of life. For example, the film, Wohnny Reger, " which was a gangster picture. He advised that his company would not permit the sale of such type pictures to the Soviets. Mr. Spring also advised that approximately two years ago, the Soviets attempted to make a deal with his company whereby they would purchase pictures from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for showing in Russian theatres if MGM would guarantee certain running time of their pictures, in American theatres. However, he advised this deal was not consummated. He stated that during World War II, the following pictures were sold by MGM to the Soviet Government: "Edison the Man" and "Song of Russia."

Corporation, advised that his company had no contractual relations with the Soviet Government and that he could not remember that his company had sold any pictures to the Soviet Union within recent years. He advised that the Soviets wanted to purchase the film "Grapes of Krath" and were even willing to pay approximately $150,000 for the picture. advised that his corporation had no contractual relations with the Soviet Government. He stated that the Soviets had purchased the picture "North Star" and the picture "Rambie," approximately a year and a half ago, "Bambie" being a Walt Disney production and the story of a little deer and other animals. "North Star" is an American picture described as being one of several specific propaganda films tending to show American sympathy to Russia. He also advised that 8 major motion picture companies had arranged to form a motion picture export association and assign their rights to sell pictures in certain foreign areas to this motion picture export association. This was done for the commercial protection of the major companies. These companies are as follows:

RTO PADIO PICTURES WARRER EROTHETS
PARAMOUNT
METRO-COLDWYN-MAYER
20th CENTURY FOX
UNIVELSAL
UNITED ARTISTS

He explained that under this arrangement if a picture made by one of the major studios was sold to Russia or certain other foreign countries, all the major companies would obtain a percentage of the sale price. It was his opinion, as it was the opinion of other motion picture executives, that the Russians had been interested in purchasing American pictures not truly depicting our American way of life and pictures which would show our American way of life in a bad light. He stated this association, which was formed October 4, 1945, is known as the Motion Picture Export Association, Inc., of New York City.

of the Motion Picture Export Association, Inc., was interviewed and stated that his association was a Delaware corporation and had no contractual relations with the Soviet Union. He stated that so far American pictures are being distributed in Japan, Korea and Germany (American Zone). He stated that his association was sending representatives to all thirteen countries in an attempt to sell American pictures. FUSSIAN FILES

The Hollywood Reporter for October 28, 1946, under the heading "Reds Admit Their Pictures are Tops" stated in part as follows:

"Film critics 'can arrive at one conclusion only, that Soviet cinema art ranks first in importance and profoundness,' V. Polporatsky, Correspondent for Izvestia, wrote in a story on 'The cannes Film Festival,' released here last week by the USSA Embassy. Praising the French films and the 'great craftsmanship of Disney's films,' the Russian writer held that the impressive record of awards to Soviet films was justified by their 'vitality, faith, in the future and the struggle for it.'"

The article stated that the American films tend toward standardization. One critic remarked that films are stamped in Hollywood just like automobile parts in Detroit. "Many of the films shown demonstrated the moral degradation of much of the world's cinema art. The majority of the non-Soviet films which were shown in Cannes were devoted to the decadence of the human mind. Drug addiction, dipsomania, and mysticism unser the guise of psychology. Such was their essence." "A direct contrast is supplied by the Soviet films."

JOHN HERMAN DIERKES

Investigation of Kennedy reflects that he is a business associate of Sidney Buchman, an alleged Communist figure in the Los Anjeles area and a producer at Columbia Studios. Kennedy reportedly came to Los Angeles approximately one and one-half years ago from New York to confer with Sidney Buchman about a screen story which he subsequently sold to Buchman. This story was based on material taken by Kennedy from the confidential files of the Treasury Department and is being made into a picture by a joint production unit of Kennedy and Buchman. This picture is to star Dick Powell and is entitled "Assigned to Treasury."

The Los Angeles Office reports that from a source close to buchman it ascertained that Kennedy was a member of the Communist Party, although the New York Office was never able to identify him as a member of the Cultural Section. It is reported by the Los Angeles Office that Kennedy's importance in Party circles was evidenced by the fact that his leadership was being reviewed at the same time as was the leadership of John Howard Lawson, a top motion picture alleged Communist figure.

The Los Angeles Office also reported that there are various references in its files to liaison missions carried by Kennedy in contacts with Carl kinter, former Chairman of the Los Angeles County Communist Party in the past few years.

In the latter part of February, 1947, there appeared an article in the Los Angeles "Examiner" stating that the Roosevelt family had abandoned their former policy of refusing to allow a motion picture to be made on the life of the late President and had agreed to a film based on the life of F.D.R. which will be in the charge of writer producer Jay Richard Kennedy. The news item pointed out that James Roosevelt was to be technical advisor on the film and would assist Kennedy in selecting the material and snaring in the financial interests of the picture. James Roosevelt added in this article that Kennedy would soon meet with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and stated that he had obtained her permission for Kennedy to write and produce the film.

A further article appeared in the Los Angelas papers carrying a date line of February 27, 1947, at New York, in which Mrs. Elegnof Roosevelt stated that while her mind was not changed on the subject of pictures of the late President, her son James took the position that since there was no may to stop such pictures, it was better for the family to cooperate and thus obtain as accurate a presentation as possible.

of Dierkes with this projected picture was not clear as of that date. They further reported that Dierkes was on a status of leave without pay with the Treasury Department until March 24, 1947, and that he had given no indication as yet as to what his future plans would be. The Los Angeles Office further reported in this connection that Dierkes has had an offer to return to the Treasury Lepartment for active assignment, that his position with Jay Richard Kennedy could be extended at his option and, further, that he received an offer of Maison Agent in follywood for the Jay Arthur Bank, Motion Picture Interests of Great Britain.

The pointed out that the chief interest of Koerner, as head of production at RKO, is to release motion pictures with box office appeal in order that RKO may be financially successful, and that he is not interested in fighting Communism.

II. RKO Producers

Glavin Ladd_ Kicho Prior to setting forth the various people in this category with Communist affiliations at a varying degree, the following observations are made concerning the general capacity of a producer as based upon information of general knowledge and that supplied by

The producer in a studio is the official responsible for and in charge of the actual production of a picture. In many cases producers are the heads of production companies or units which are almost independent of studio may agement, although the completed picture might bear the label of the mature of releasing it. This is true with respect to RKO.

Producers are principally interested in completing a picture for profit and might neither be aware nor interested in any disguised Communist injected into a given picture by the writers or directors, so long as the picture as a whole has box office appeal.

The producer is the final arbiter of what the picture is to contain then it is completed. Therefore he is in a position to cut out all Communist propaganda when he recognizes it or when he cares to take this action. Similarly, if a producer desires to inject Communist propaganda into a picture, he being in charge can do so; then the only person who can override the producer is the executive head in charge of production.

As of November 1, 1944, RXO had fifteen producers, fourteen associate producers and one short subject producer. Following are listed those RAO producers who have Communist affiliations or connections indicated:

Niven Busch has been described by the solution of a sympathetic with the Communist movement and one who is supported by Communists because of his writings. VI. R.K.O. Feature Pictures Containing Communist Propaganda

At the outset, Informant countries stated that the "western" or "mystery" type of escapist film are not a suitable vehicle for Communist and and that Communists do not expect that every picture or even a majority of pictures produced by a studio, be a Communist vehicle. The informant has advised that from his experience in the Communist movement, Communists consider themselves successful even if one of twenty-five motion pictures contain important Communist propaganda. He stated this propaganda may consist of the spoken words, the actions or even the implications in sequences.

Communist propaganda has varied over a period of years and it is to be remembered that prior to June 1, 1941, Communists declared the present war to be an imperialist war, but since that time and continuing to the present time, Communists have completely reversed themselves and in varying stages have fallen in line with the Government's program of "win the war and win the peace", proclaiming themselves to be "super-patriots". This pretanced position, according to the series a pretext and in fact, the Communists have so cloaked themselves in order to deceive the public and gain prestize and leadership.

The informant has advised that the present tactics of the Communist movement in the use of the motion picture as a propaganda medium are to refrain from directly advocating Communism, but to create sympathy for the Soviet Union and picture the Communist, either national or international, as a patriotic, loyal supporter of democratic processes. It is for these reasons Communist propaganda in motion pictures may be extremely difficult to detect. Further, the "patriotic" role of the Communists is being utilized to the fullest extent to further penetrate the industry. The informant states that the purpose of this intensive penetration is to prepare for the future so that the powerful influence of the motion picture may be used in the interests of internationalism, according to the Marxist-Lenin philosophies.

Recently two articles have appeared in the press, one in Ph and the other in the Daily Worker, which have indicated feelings that R.K.O. cooperates with "Fascists". In the July 28, 1944, issue of PH, in the column by McManus, entitled, "Speaking of Movies", R.K.O. is referred to in the following manner:

Most recently, however, it has accepted the unique and unenviable stigms, being the only American film company willing and anxious to distribute Fascist-made films in the U.S.A. It is distributing (or trying to distribute) the Franco-made Spanish film, Goyescas, in the U.S.A. as a tribute for the privilege of distributing its Hollywood product in Fascist Spain. Goyescas is the film Minchell attacked on the radio Sunday night.

It was further stated in this article:

Apart from a mounting indignation and disgust with this sort of trading with the enery's agents, there has also been a growing concern over how such a reciprocal trade agreement with a Fascist country might affect a Hollywood studio's own production quality. Obviously anti-Fascist films would not be permitted on the market in a Fascist land. Obviously too, no business-like Hollywood studio can afford to produce films for export only. The inescapable conclusion therefore is that all its productions must be acceptable to all its markets which, logically means an end to anti-Fascist film-making by studios siming to trade with Fascists.

The article then refers, however, to the fact that R.K.O. had, in the past, produced anti-Fascist films, such as "This Land is Mine" and "Tender Comrade".

With regard to its future releases, the article states that h.K.O. promises fifty or more feature-length "escapist and comedy themes" predominately, with the exception of one or two "prestige pictures". The article states,

"Otherwise, for the great burden of the way, the going will be intrigue, bang-bang, and technicolor kisses, the same old messy misrepresentation of America and its tastes that characterized most Hollywood film production in the prewar years."

In the other article referred to previously, the one appearing on page fifteen, Section I of the September 17, 1914, Daily Norker, was entitled "Warner Brothers Respect Franco". This article refers to a Rest Coast article describing how Hollywood has responded to Franco's summons to do business with him and his silent Axis partners. It is stated:

"R.K.O. and Universal are already doing business with him.

Paramount and 20th Century-Fox are reported interested, but Warner Brothers has unofficially let out the word that they will not take part. 'Unofficially' perhaps because our State Department is involved to the extent that it is encouraging this exchange of business between the countries. Yet no anti-Axis sentiments are permitted in any of the pictures accepted by Franco. This is bound to have some influence on the content of films. Does it account for the fact, or is it just coincidental, that Universal acknowledges a present schedule of chiefly 'escapist' musicals?"

The reported exchange of films between this country and Spain is lattacked in the article and Warner Brothers is set up as the "consistent" studio since it will reportedly not do business with Spain.

Within the past year, several movies which, according to the informent, contain Communist propaganda, have been produced by R.K.O. These are listed hereinbelow with a brief description of each.

The North Star — a Samual Goldwyn production released by R.K.O.

Mirector of this picture was Lewis Milestone, a sponsor of and active in a large number of Communists fronts. The writer of the script was Lillian Hellman, a reputed Communist and a close associate of known Communists. Jay Leyda who was Technical Director is a known Communist Party member. The film deals with life in a small town in Soviet Russia prior to the time of the Nazi invasion and subsequent to that invasion. The picture has been attacked viciously in the press as Communist propaganda of the Soviet Union and as a picture of life in the Soviet Union which is not consistent with the facts.

"This Land Is Mine". This was released in June, 1943, and is a war drama dealing with conditions in the occupied territories under Nazi domination. The screen play was written by Dudley Nichols who was co-producer with Jean Ramoir, both of whom have been described hereinbefore.

class cannot be trusted to fight against dictatorship, but that only the working class can be relied upon to fight Fascism and that it follows the principle of class opposition as advocated by Marxist ideology. In its cast are George Sanders, Phillip Merivale and Walter Slezak, all of whom, according to have cooperated with persons favoring the Communist Political Association line.

described hereinbefore. The writer of the picture was Bud Wilson Schulberg, described hereinbefore. The star of the picture was Olivia De Havilland who, according to the has been in frequent contact with Communist elements and has been associated with the Communist-controlled Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee.

"Tender Comrade". This was written by Dalton Trumbo, described hereinbefore. It was produced by David Hempstead and directed by Edward Dmytrik, who has been described hereinbefore. Claims that lines in this movie were of the Communist propagands type.

"None But The Lonely Heart". This was directed by Clifford Odets and produced by David Hempstead who, according to the shown decided sympathies for Communism over a period of years. The sale star is Cary Grant, who has been alleged by to move socially in Communist circles.

VII. R.K.O. Contracts With Soyuzintorgkino (Soviet Movie Trust) For Sale Of Films

It has been learned from the Foreign Agents Registration Section of the Mar Division, Department of Justice that on July 13, and July 17, 1944, conversations were had with the one of the Vice-Presidents of R.K.O. studios relative to the matter of establishing a corporation composed of stock holders from R.K.O. and Soyuzintorgkino, the Soviet notion picture combine. pointed out to the Foreign Agents Registration Section that R.K.O. and Soyuzintorgkino were contemplating dividing the profits equally. No further progress at that time was indicated. However, the October 9, 1944, issue of the "News Week" Magazine carried an article to the effect that R.K.O. and Soyuzintorgkino had entered into an arrangement whereby R.K.O. will distribute five films each year which cost $50,000 each to produce, and in turn, coyuzintorgkino is to release a like number for R.K.O. in Russia. R.K.O., according to the article, was not made the sole global distributor of Russian films.

To date, no additional information has been received with regard to this arrangement or with regard to the character of the movies to be released. Undoubtedly, however, the Soviet films which will be furnished to R.X.O. will be highly propagandistic if the previous policy of the Soviet Union in the making and distribution of its films is followed. Furthermore, any film made by R.K.O. for distribution in the Soviet Union will undoubtedly be conscred most carefully by the Soviet Union.

RKO Soyuzintorgkino Deal

The October 9, 1944, issue of "Mows Week" (page 24), carried the following item:

Fin Hollywood's current scramble for the post-war foreign film market, RKO has out-sprinted the other studios by signing a two year contract with Soyuzintorgkino (Soviet Movie Truct). Under the deal, PKO will distribute, in the United States and elsewhere as agreed upon by the trust, a yearly minimum of five Soviet films purchased at $50,000. In return for every Russian picture the U. S. studio handles, Soyuzintorgkino will purchase an PKO movie at the same price for distribution with the U.S.S.R. To facilitate these business deals, a new corporation soon will be set up with PKO and the Russian film trust, each holding a 50% interest. The Soviet Union's determination to cut its own slice of the world film market is seen in the trust's refusal to name PKO as sole global distributor of Russian films.

Chary

Dors Schary has been elevated to the vice presidency of RKC pictures and put in charge of all production of pictures under a five-year contract. This company, Radio-Keith-Urpheum (RKO), is one of the major companies in the motion picture industry in Hollywood. The appointment of Mr. Schary was made by David Selznick, the head of the company.

Mr. Schary, as director of all production, would determine the type of picture produced, the personnel employed in the cultural preparation and direction of the picture; in fact, his power would determine the entire trend of the production of that major producting company.

Mr. Schary has a long record of activity as a strong Communist sympathizer. Some of his activities are as follows:

Former member of the League of American Writers, Teacher in the Hollywood Briters School conducted by the League of American Writers. This League of American Writers was affiliated with the International Union of Revolutionary Writers, headquarters, Moscow, Russia. This school is not known as the Peoples Educational Center and is still under Communist central,
Was a member of, and extremely active in, the Hollywood Writers Nobilization.

Kember of the Madvisory committeem of the Fifth Writers Congress, Member Executive Council of the Hollywood Democratic Committee, Member Executive Council of Hollywood Independent Citizens Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions. Was also vice president of this organization.

Member of the Russian-American Club of Hollywood, and Supported the Council of Hollywood Guilds and Unions, an organization set up to defend Communists in the motion picture industry.

VII. INVESTIGATION OF COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES IN THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY BY THE COMMITTEE ON UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

The House Committee on un-American Activities announced to the public on June 20, 1945, that it had voted to investigate subversive activities in Hollywood to determine whether film stars and producers were involved in a plot to everthrow the government. John K. Rankin of Mississippi, Acting Chairman of the Committee, made the announcement, stating that so much mail had been received about a dangerous plot to everthrow the government centering around Hollywood that the Committee had voted to send investigators to the west count at once. Mr. Rankin did not elaborate in his statement to the press on the persons involved in the alleged plot or its nature but indicated that before the investigation was finished some "big names" would enter into the inquiry.

RIASON FOR THE PROPOSED INVESTIGATION

The decision of the House un-American activities Consittee to inquire into Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry appears to have been prompted by articles originating in Ios Angeles newspapers following a meeting in that city on June 8, 1945, which was spensored by "New Masses" magazine and held in honor of Hilliam Gropper, cartochist for that publication. This meeting was arranged by Doretta Tarmon, field director for "New Masses." The principal speakers were Richard Bransten, also known as Bruce Minton, who is contributing editor to "New Masses;" Ruth McKenney, wife of Richard Bransten, who is also a contributing editor for "New Masses;" Joseph Foster, film editor for "New Masses;" and Hilliam Gropper.

Clippings from los Angeles papers which were made available at the time stated that speakers at the meeting indicated that Communist propaganda and activities would in the future become centured around hollywood; that Communists were seeking to strengthen their ties with the White House; that relations howeven the United States and the Chiang Kai-Shek Government of China must be broken in order to further the plan of Sovietizing all of Asia; that prossure must be exerted to continue lend-lease aid to Russia; and that pretty young girls in the Communist Youth movement should be used to favorably influence men in the armed forces. The Los Angeles "Examiner" published a story setting cut the reaction of several civic organizations and civic leaders to the reported disclosures made at the meeting, all expressing indignation and demanding action to counteract the alleged Communist program.

The Los Angeles Office reported that information regarding the meeting on June 8, 1945, had been received from informants prior to the time it was hold and that inasmuch as it was indicated information of some significance could be obtained from coverage of the meeting, which was a public one, agents of the last Angeles Office were in attendance.

Fretor and the facility acres, the mostle, and an its Chairman Sports.
Fretor and the French Struct Special size fall varied by Mills Makeshay and possibly of forting special chairman and post particularly serious chairman regarding her experiences at the San Francisco United Bations Conference. The agents advised that McKerney did, because, during her address; find cocasion to praise the pacific of the 5.5.5.2 and to misicula the attitude of the United States State Pepartment, with Michard Branston in addressing the sacting site spoke regarding the United Rations Conference, stressing particularly the meed for exacting pressure upon the State Department to induce its return to the foreign policy of the lates President Hoosevelt and to carry out the provisions of the Yalta agreement and Branston is said to have particularly ridiculad former President Hoover and Senator Vandenberg; to have repeatedly emphasized throughout his specific the for strengthening "Big Three" unity; and to have stressed the mecessity of putting an and to the growing trend toward "Soviet balting."

According to the agents, the speech made by Milliam Gropper dealt only with the history and solicies of West Masson magazine, Each of the speakers found occasion to appeal for support of "New Masses" in the form of subscriptions and contributions.

The los Angeles Office has advised that the "Examiner" in its news paper stories regarding the meeting had to some extent embellished the statements of the above-named speakers whose alleged remarks appeared in quotation marks into perspaper articles. The agents she covered the meeting sere of the opinion that some of these quotations were not correct, although the nature of the meeting es such that the agents could not take notes.

One particular incommany pointed out was the statement quoted in the Los Angeles "Axeminar" that "the thousands of pretty young girls in our Comsocial groups wherever the soldiers, sailors and parines sout recreetion and are prone to listen to gursussive voices. The agents pointed but also that although the "Exeminer" made the statement that the program presented had been -carefully blueprinted in New York City by Earl Browder and other American Soviets," min much statement, in fact, had been made at the meeting.

The reaction of the agents present at the meeting as to what was said and outlined by the speakers was generally at variance with the conclusions reported in the Los Angeles "Examiner." They have stated that nothing was said by the speakers or suggested during a question and onever period to indicate and change in the policies of the Communist organisation. They have advised that nothing was said from which the constants would be drawn that the community Political Association was transferring its center of specific from the No. 167 City to Rellywood. Fortisement, nothing was empowered of said of this meeting according to the agents, to indicate a plan had been formulated by the CPA to win over the armed forces to a sympathetic signostat.

Absording to the los Musics tirrice, there is no question but that the meeting held on June 8, 1965, was a completely Communist dominated githering. Two of the principal speakers, Richard Bransten and his wife, Buth Eckemey, are contributing editors to New Massed and both are known by the los Angeles. Office to have been members of the Communist Folitical Association ansigned to the 59th Assembly District Club in los Angeles. The meeting was held for the purpose of bonoring Hilliam Gropper, cartoonist for "New Masses," and to increase interest in that publication as well as to abtain domains and some scriptions therefor.

Information was received from confidential sources subsequent to the date of the meeting indicating that Communist leaders in los Angeles were considerably aroused at the manner in which the function was treated by the prese. According to the Los Angeles Office, there were indications that Branston and his wife would protest to the "Examiner" and demand a retraction of the storm. It was also indicated that Branston might possibly seek legal advice as to whether he had a libel case against the newspaper for the publication of the stories. No information has been received, however, that a protest was made directly to the "Examiner" or that any legal proceedings were instituted.

ESACTION OF THE OPA TO THE RENSPAPER CLIPPINGS

The reaction of the national office of the Communist Political Association to the newspaper publicity referred to above was indicated by a latter dated June 13, 1965, from John Milliamson of the CPA national office in New York City to Milliam Schneiderson, State Secretary in California. A photostatic copy of this latter which is set out below was furnished the Shn Francisco Office by a highly confidential source of information.

STATIMENTS OF PRINCIPAL FIGURES INVOLVED REGARDING THE NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY.

Walter Hangar, who shortly after the publication of the newspaper articles mentioned above attempted to secure a statement from the Director that no plot to overthrow the government as had been alleged existed, subsitted to the Bureau copies of affidireits which had been prepared by the following persons, all of show had reportedly participated in the "New Massess" meeting on June 8, 1965: Hillian Gropper, cartoonist for "New Massess" Richard Branston, also known as Bruce Minton, west coast representative for "New Masses;" Buth McKenney, wife of Richard Branston, now under contract with Parasount Studios; and Joseph Poster, film editor for "New Masses."

Milliam Gropper in his affidavit deposes that none of the statements attributed to him by the Los Angeles "Examiner" resembled in any way, in whole or in part, the remarks made by him at the "New Masses" moeting. Richard Branston Buth McKanney, and Joseph Foster likewise in their affidavits denied that they had made the statements attributed to them regarding the Communist Party and its principles. They expressed the opinion that the newspaper stories were complete fabrications for the purpose of amering the progressive movement in Hollywood and furnishing a springboard for an investigation of the zovie colony.

STATEMENTS AND PRACTICES TO THE COMPASSIONAL INVESTIGATION

a confidential informant regarding Communism in the motion picture industry, advised that the immediate reaction in Hollywood to the "Now Masses" meeting and to the Schligtly afforded it was that many persons completed with the motion picture industry larged statements denying that there were any Communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies, claiming that the entire communist activities in the various studies in the information in the community activities in the studies in the community of the community activities in the information of the community activities in the information of the community of the comm

The July 2, 1945, issue of "Variety," movie trade paper, under the heading "Locuse Earlin of Trying to Bust Page One" stated in part that the new Hollywood emempinyestigation was just an effort by a "flop" consisted to crash the front pages. The story continued that los ingeles congressed had accused Representative John Rankin and the House Consistee on un-heritain activities of following the well-recognised technique of trying to bust the front pages by working through the motion picture industry.

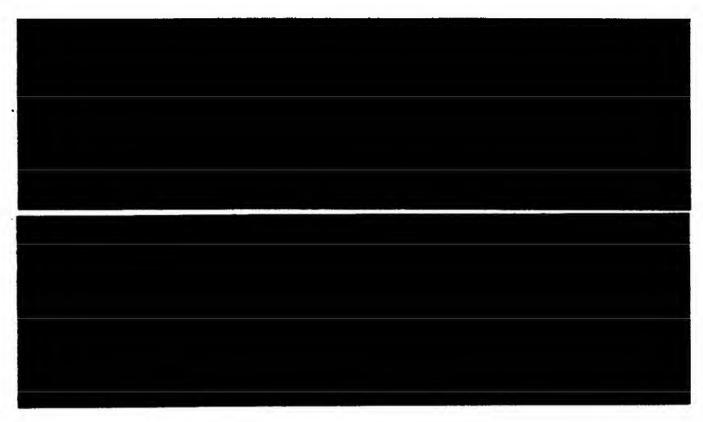

The article quoted Congressmen Red R. Healy of Los incoles as stating: "This move is typical of solt of Rankin's activities. He obviously is following in the footsteps of his predecessor, Markin Mes. Secretary by Street Str

(November 14, 1946, through February 14, 1947)

This Congressional Committee has been giving some attention to Communist activities in Hollywood film industry over a period of several years. On December 3, 1946, Chairman Wood and Chief Investigator Adamson held a short hearing in Los Angeles on this subject. Only three witnesses were called and the hearings were superficial. However, the Committee announced that it would return in January and conduct expended open hearings into all passes of this type of activity in Hollywood.

I. IEVESTIGATION OF COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES IN THE:

MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY BY THE COMMITTEE ON

UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

(April 22, 1947 - May 24, 1947)

As you will recall, you testified before the House Committee on Un-American Activities on March 26, 1947, at which time you referred to the Communist infiltration into the motion picture industry. You pointed out that the Communists launched their attack in Hollywood in 1935 directing their activities at the infiltration of labor unions and the so-called intellectual, and creative fields. You pointed out that the Communist activity in Hollywood was effective and was furthered by Communists and Communist sympathicers who use the prestige of prominent individuals in the motion picture colony to further their cause. You also pointed out that the Communists endeavor to insert into the motion pictures Communist propaganda or to keep out of motion pictures anti-Communist propaganda.

Following your testimeny before the Un-American Activities Committee, you will recall that Eric. Johnston of the motion picture industry testified before this Committee after he made a trip to Hollywood where he conferred with studio and union heads. The Washington Post on April 13, 1947, in referring to Johnston's appearance before the Committee quoted Johnston as stating:

As for there being Communist influence in the movies, such an accusation is absurd. If Hollywood ware a Communist network, I should not be attacked every morning in the Daily Yorker—as I can assure you I am. And some of the people out there who are attacked as Communists are no more Commiss than I am. They have a right to their convictions, and while some of them may be critical they have a perfect right to be.

As you will further recall, Father Cronin telephonically advised Mr. E. A. Tamm that Bric Johnston had requested him to draw up a program for the elimination of Communists from the notion picture industry. Father Cronin stated he had outlined a program which he was going to submit to Bric Johnston in which each of the studios would have three specialists in the script department of the studio who would review all script prior to the time that the pictures were actually made. One of these men will be an expert on the labor aspects of Communism; the second an expert on propagande aspects of Communism, and the third another type of an expert. Father Cronin's program also will recommend that there be assigned to the "brain office" of each studio one can who will have the responsibility of enforcing a program of easing the . Communists out of the various jobs in the company and of directing the screening of all applications so that Communists will not be hired. As you have noted, the statements of Johnston as quoted in the Machington Post and his activities with Father Cronin do not follow the same line and apparently Johnston has changed his mind concerning the Communists in Hollywood.

Confidential Informant of the Los Angeles Office advised that members of the Un-American Activities Committee arrived in Hollywood on May 8, Is availed a great fanfare of press releases and headlines. The Committee stated it would get to the bottom of the Red issue in studios and that, specifically, it was in Hollywood to investigate the activities of Hanns Eisler, the brother of Gerhart Hisler. It indicated that hearings were to be conducted in secret at the Hillmore Hotel in downtown Los Angeles. The Committee in Los Angeles was represented by the following individuals:

J. Parnell Thomas, Representative from New Yersey, Chairman John McDowell, Representative, Pennsylvania John Wood, Representative, Georgia Robert Stripling, Chief Investigator

Movelist Rupert Hughes testified before the Committee on May 15, 1947, at which time he stated, according to the Los Angeles Herald and Express for the same date, that Communists dominated Hollywood to a large degree and mentioned two individuals, John Howard Lawson and Charles Chaplin. He said that Charles Chaplin called for a second front in a speech in New York shortly after Hitler turned on Stalia although "we only had a few men in Europe at the time". He said that the Communists control the Screen Writers' Guild and that they had tried to kick him out of the Juthors' League. He stated John Howard Lawson, head of the Authors' League, had tried to drive him out of the Authors' League and would have been successful if it had not been blocked by a few of his friends. He said that Lawson was a notorious Communist and "I deplore the fact that he at present is the publisher of the Hollywood Quarterly at U.C.L.A., and on the editorial board are members of the U.C.L.A. faculty".

Rughes stated that the Communists in the Hollywood film industry gang up on anyone opposing them and have caused those in opposition to them to be fired. He recalled a lot of names that the Communists had directed at him when he fought them and he also told of being booed at U.C.L.A. by the Communists while making a speech against Hitler and his totalizarian gang. He stated.

*But that was the time when the Communists opposed conscription, preparedness and lend-lease-because Hitler and Stalin had a nonaggression pact.

*As soon as Hitler turned on Stalin, these same people became the greatest prepareders and that was when Charles Chaplin made his second front speech in New York.

They call anyone who opposes them a Fascist, yet I, who believe in free enterprise, am a Fascist to them while they, who are believers in totalitarianism, are benefactors.

Take some of these Red $3,000-a-week boys in Hollywood who do nothing for humanity—they consider themselves benefactors of humanity. But a Henry Ford, who employs hundreds of thousands and gives everyone a cheap car—they say he is a Pascist and an enemy of mankind and should be wrecked.

imphes called Stalin "the foulest brute in history" and appended this rison:

"One of their favorite policies is to start hestility among the Megroes. They do not care to help the Megro, and actually hurt him. How there are many abuses in this country and these I oppose, and have opposed.

"There are 13,000,000 Megroes in all the United States. But there are 15,000,000 Mussians in slave camps in Russia; work-slaves, and their slavery is far more deadly than any we know of. They work in temperatures as cold as 85 degrees below zero; in many cases they work with their feet in ice water; they get 12 ounces of bread a day--and die like flies."

A Communist, in Enghes' view, need not be a member of the Party, he explained, adding:

"A man who says he is not a Communist but who defends Russia in everything; who says he is a friend of the Russians, who defends their policies, and is never critical of Stalin—he may call himself a hypochondriac or a Zulu or any odd name, but he is as much a Communist as an avowed Party member."

Jack Marner, Vice President of Marner Brothers Studios, according to this same article, complemented the Committee and promised his full support. Warner, who appeared before the Committee for an hour with his Plant Production Director, Blayney Matthews, said:

*The Committee is doing an excellent job and I am happy to cooperate.

*If any persons are undermining the American system—the American way of life—I want to be one of those to be of aid in stamping it out.

*I told the Committee everything I might have known of subversive activities in the film industry".

indrman Thomas, according to this article, complimented Adolf Menjou on having made the most enlightening presentation before the Committee to date. He invited the actor to appear at the Committee's hearings in Washington at some later date. Highlights of Menjou's testimony, according to Thomas, were acfollows:

- *1. He charged that the 16 men who control the Soviet Union wanted to take over America as 'they could never feel safe as long as there was one free spot in the world such as the United States'.
 - *2. He predicted that the Communist Party, if unchecked, would be be seen up this country as the Masis did in Norway' and take it over within 15 years.
 - *3. He defended the capitalist system in America, asserting he was proud of it and that If it did half as much for the happiness of the world in the next 50 years as it had in the past 50 years, he would feel satisfied.
 - *4. He charged that many millionaires in Hollywood and elsewhere were Communists or pro-Communists.
 - *5. He charged that 'the Communists in the film industry are so powerful that many of the "little people" are afraid to move against them'.

This same article reflected that Menjou stated prior to appearing before the Committee that he had made 36 talks against Communism and expressed the belief that the Communist Party of the United States should be outlawed. It quoted Menjou as follows:

My good friend Edgar Hoover, the F.B.I. head, feels they should not be outlawed—that it would drive them underground. But I ask where are they now? They all hide. This is a wonderful country. It has its faults which we should correct. But I like it the way it is.

*I would recommend that the 16 rulers of Russia be treated exactly the way they treat us.

They twist what we say to fit their purposes. Any films that we make that show some of our defects, they twist around and change to make it appear that the defects portray America while actually they are exceptions to the rule.

"I would shut all of them out of the country as they shut our people out of Russia. I would distort everything they say.

"As some of my friends say: 'You can't do that'. I answer: 'You can because they do it'.

With class distinction, the profit system and American capitalism the Communist's particular targets in the United States, what I can't anderstand is how there are so many millionaires for it. There and some Red actors.

"I have always opposed boycotting films, when such action was suggested, to combat the films directed by these Reds or with the Reds starring in them because too many little people would be bart. The little people are afraid—in fact it's surprising to find some of the bigger people also afraid of the Communist erganization".

"A lot of people who fell for the Commies class distinction and anti-capitalism bunk, don't realize that the Communist leaders in Russia, four months after they had obtained control of that country, abandoned Karl Marx and the favorite Russians now profit by the profit system, can leave property and wealth to their children, while many other Russians just live in a slave state."

"The chief fear of the Communists in the United States is the American middle class. In other countries such as France and Italy where the Communists have gained strength, they have done it primarily by lying to the workers".

The Little Red School House of Hollywood was brought into evidence by Mrs. Leila Rogers, mother of film star Ginger Rogers, according to this same article. She attributed the strong influence of Communists in Hollywood to the writers and charged that the Communists trained them "in 'The Little Red School House' as we know it*. She identified this school as the "People's Education Center in Hollywood". Mrs. Rogers revealed in one picture, "Tender Comrade", her actress daughter Ginger had refused to say the following line, "Share and share alike—that's democracy". Mrs. Rogers said "I think that's definitely Communist propaganda inspired by the Little Red School House.

"Ginger refused to read the line. So it was given to a sweet and unquestionably loyal youngster, Kim Hunter, to read". She said that the author of the script was Dalton Trumbo.

The Los Angeles Examiner for May 15, 1947, reflected that screen actor Robert Taylor also testified before the Un-American Activities Committee on May 14. On this occasion, Taylor advised that he was forced by a former Aids of the late President Roosevelt into starring in a motion picture which favored Russian ideologies over American. According to the article, the pressure was from a former White House adviser and the Office of War Information official who came to Hollywood for the express purpose of overruling Taylor's objection to appearing in the 1943 release. "Song of Russia".

Representative Thomas stated, according to the article, that this individual was Lowell Hellett, Administrative Assistant to the late President Picture Division of the O.Y.I., had publicly declared they wanted "no consorship of notion pictures". The article also reflected that Mellett, when contacted in Washington, D. C., concerning Taylor's testimony, referred to the accusations as "too silly to deny". He stated "I certainly didn't compel Robert Taylor or anyone else to do anything". He continued, "If Thomas wants to know what I know about this matter, I will be glad to tell him when he gets back to Washington."

Other individuals prominent in the film world who sought to aid the Committee in its probe were actor Richard Arlen and Henry Ginsberg. Vice President in Charge of Production at Paramount Studies. After hearing Taylor and Arlen, Mr. Thomas commended both actors who were very cooperative in appearing before the Committee. He stated, "They showed especial courage in accepting our invitation. It could affect their careers." This article reflected that Arlen told the reporters that "the Communists are very influential beyond their numbers in Hollywood".

The Los Angeles Examiner for May 17, 1947, reflected that a surprise witness, Viktor Kravchenko, an estranged Soviet official, had appeared on subpoems before the Committee—one day after his life was threatened in a Beverly Hills home where he was a guest. Representative Thomas told reporters, according to the article, that because of this threat received by Kravchenko, the author of "I Chose Freedom", he was placed under the protection of the YBI. This same article reflected that Kravchenko told the Committee:

"Hollywood is a serious intellectual front in the United States.

It is necessary to clear Hollywood of Communists and sympathizers—in the writers circles and in the artists circles.

"Today few companies in Hollywood want to make pictures that show the Soviet Union as it really is. Take for example the picture, 'Red Danube', which is pure fantasy.

"Mhy don't they make a picture on Russia which would show what it means to live there, what the Soviet means and show the concentration camps? Show everything as it really is."

The New York Times of May 17 under a Los Angeles dateline of May 16, quoted Chairman J. Parnell Thomas of the House Committee on Un-American activities as asserting after a week of hearings on subversive activities in Follywood, that #90 per cent of Communist infiltration was in the screen writing field, but that the Federal Government also had abetted the work. He stated that in the testimony of the fourteen actors, writers and producers, a very outstanding point that came up inot once but many times was the influence of the Government in aiding the Communist conspiracy. Mr. Thomas said:

"We have recorded testimony that even the White House exerted to influence on certain people in Hollywood to have certain pro-Bussian motion pictures filmed during the regime of the late President Roosevelt.

"I don't refer to just the Robert Taylor disclosure, but to others by actors and producers themselves who told how the Government had wielded the iron fist in order to get the companies to put on certain Communist propaganda"

Mr. Thomas also related that the sub-committee had "been amaged at the revelations made by the witnesses and their frankness in naming names, places, dates, Communist card numbers, etc." He added:

"The insidious propaganda of the Communist has no place in the movies which entertain millions of Americans, but it seems to me that the quickest and most effective way of eliminating it would be for Hollywood to clean its own house and not wait for a committee to spotlight this sorry spectacle".

This article also reflected that Mr. McDowell left and May 15 to inspect the Texas border stations on his way East. Mr. Thomas indicated, according to the article, that he planned to go to San Francisco to continue his inquiry. The article also reflected that Mr. Thomas' statement caused little stir among screen writers. Ammert Lavery, President of the Screen Writers' Guild, said:

"If Mr. Thomas has discovered anything worth investigating, the place to investigate it is through the FBI. I personally doubt very much that subversive circles in the city are likely to be trapped by punches telegraphed in advance by eight-column scare headlines."

viii. Miscellaneous

In 1941, during the period of the Stalin-Hitler Pact, when the Communist Party of the United States was calling strikes in the major defease plants through its control of certain CIO unions, ims the leader in one of the key plants of the of a strike in also went to Los Angeles, according to to support the Vultee and narvil Strikes at about the same time.
